The Hiram Blauvelt Museum Hosts Society of Animal Artists 55th Annual Exhibition

The Hiram Blauvelt Art Museum is proud to announce that we are hosting the Society of Animal Artists 55th Annual Exhibition from November 14th – January 3, 2016, featuring various wildlife artists throughout the country like - John Banovich, Beatrice Bork, Anni Crouter and Cynthia Fisher. We encourage the public to visit us and even consider acquiring a piece to add to their collection.

The Society of Animal Artists is a prestigious organization that is devoted to promoting excellence in the artistic portrayal of the creatures sharing our planet, and to the education of the public through informative art seminars, lectures and teaching demonstrations. To learn more about The Society of Animal Artists visit www.societyofanimalartists.com.

We encourage educators, families, and individuals who have an appreciation for wildlife art to visit the museum's website at www.blauveltartmuseum.com to preview upcoming events and museum hours.
